Here's a bit more detail...

- Transaction history - opening an account reveals its transaction history, with credits and debits clearly distinguished so it is easy to see your money coming in versus going out.
- Filter, sort and download - you can filter and sort your transactions to find a particular payment quickly and download a copy of your transaction history for your own records or to share with a third party.
- Product information and documents - details are shown throughout on the dashboard, on the account view and during an application – and you can open any relevant product or account documents whenever you need.
- Rename accounts and choose colours - a bit of fun - you can give each account a specific name and pick a particular colour for it, making it far easier to tell your accounts apart at a glance. We do like a bit of green...
- Staying secure & getting help - it's easy to contact us and receive replies...no Bots or AI...just speaking with humans...we provide a protected channel through secure two-way messaging for added safety. Any files or documents we share with you can be downloaded too.
- Two-factor verification for transfers - sensitive actions such as transfers are protected by a verification step. If a customer has no phone number on file, verification can be sent by email instead, and you are prompted to add a phone number for the future.
- Email and SMS - we'll keep you up to date with notifications by email and text for any relevant activity on your accounts, so you don't have to log in to know something has happened.
